Narrative summary of grant related activities

Please provide brief responses that fit within the box provided

Overall project updates:	In Q3, JPR admitted 8 participants into our housing. Of the 5 that were no longer in our housing at the end of the quarter, 4 had moved into other housing. This included one who moved into his own apartment and one who moved in with family, who were prepared to accept him after his time with us. We continued in Q3 to emphasize finding employment quickly, as gainful employment is a strong leading indicator of success not only in our program but in the broader community. Employee partnerships and connections with employment agencies continue to bear fruit. Marlon Anderson, our apprentice and employment coordinator continued to build those partnerships, including some newer partnerships expected to be finalized in Q4 that will provide more opportunities for our participants.
Activities related to increasing equity, diversity and inclusion:	In Q3, we advanced area partnerships with the likes of MAHEC and AMCHC. We engaged in conversations with a variety of partners in anticipation of applying for a HRSA grant. While as a network of agencies we weren't able to apply for that grant in time, we are working together with those agencies, including Impact Health, AB-Tech, and CHASM, to expand access to CHW for individuals from marginalized communities. Additionally, AB-Tech has signed on as our partner for CDL apprentice training. The employment partner for this CDL apprenticeship is Campbell Trucking, a black-owned local trucking company. We are working to establish a similar partnership with the City of Asheville, as many of their divisions need CDL-certified drivers. We've had several meetings and are awaiting confirmation from the City.
Activities related to increasing operational excellence:	In response to the recommendations from the County's compliance monitoring report, Jordan Peer Recovery staff are examining case management software options to better monitor participants and the services offered to them. In the interim, we are building spreadsheets internally. We also have resources through our Dogwood grant to document services, particularly Peer Support provided by our staff. With the implementation of weekly staff meetings which include a standing "housing check-in" the JPR team is better equipped to respond to immediate participant and housing needs. An example of this is streamlining our process for intake and billing. We have created a living flowsheet for this process, which we continue to refine.
