BRINGING GOOD CHOICES WITHIN REACH

Eligibility

A Work First Employment Services assessment will be conducted for each mandatory participant. From this assessment, goals (immediate, short-term and long-term) will be established to assist the family toward self-sufficiency.

A Mutual Responsibility Agreement will be signed by the participant and case manager detailing the responsibilities for each party.

In order to maintain full benefits, each recipient must participate at work or a work-related activity for 20 to 35 hours per week, depending on household composition.

The caretaker must cooperate with Child Support Enforcement to establish paternity, if necessary, and to secure child support for the children in his or her care.

If you do not follow the terms of the Mutual Responsibility Agreement, you will lose your benefits.
